The Millennium Foundation of Kosovo has received financing from the Millennium Challenge Corporation toward the cost of the Transparent and Accountable Governance Project: Government decision-making is often opaque, leading to distrust by the private sector and civil society, and high perceptions of corruption. Kosovo’s judiciary is one the country’s least trusted institutions. This project supports also the implementation of a case management information system to make judicial information publicly available, and intends to apply part of the proceeds toward payments under the contract for Procurement of Information Systems (Design, Supply and Installation) ICT Systems for Public Access to Judicial Information.

MCC’s funding is appropriated by the U.S. Congress and obligated to the compact up-front, with no incremental or partial funding. So, when a contract is signed with an MFK, money is already available to the MFK and, for most contracts, invoices are paid directly to Contractors/Consultants/Suppliers by the US Treasury.

MFK now invites bids from eligible bidders for The Public Access to Judicial Information (PAJI) activity, implemented by the MFK, aims to support the Kosovo Judicial Council (KJC) by building upon assistance provided by USAID and Norway to implement a Case Management Information System (CMIS) and using that system to improve the administration of justice in Kosovo, transparency of the rule of law institutions, as well as but also support the Kosovo Judicial Council, Kosovo Prosecutorial Council and the Ministry of Justice (MoJ) in improved communication and outreach, through the following sub-activities:

- Creating an Online Data Platform for the public to access statistical data generated by the case management information system, as well as enabling disaggregation and analysis of data by meaningful categories, such as gender, region, income level or ethnicity;
- Creating an online Case Tracking Mechanism for authorized public users to access their individual case information, case status and procedural actions within the judicial system.
- Supporting the improvement of judicial decisions and their publication;
- Supporting improvement of communication and outreach by the judiciary and other rule of law institutions to establish and maintain a constructive dialogue over judicial performance.

Bidding will be conducted through the Competitive Bidding procedures as specified in the MCC Program Procurement Guidelines (PPG), and is open to all eligible bidders or consultants as defined in the PPG.
